

Not Your Normal Tent

The Oras is not your normal tent.
The Oras is unique ...
designed for a life of adventure
as well as heaps of internal pockets.

We've written instructions for you.
We know you know what you're doing,
but please follow them anyway.
Failure to do so may spoil a good night's sleep.

Lay out the ground sheet – a loaded pack can help it stay put. Assemble the poles by shaking them. It's the second fastest way.
The fastest way is to stand on them.

Insert one orange pole into its eyelet.
Carefully flex the pole. Repeat.
Carefully thread both grey poles over each other.
Clip together all quick-release buckles.

Position the tent. This is particularly important.
Bird droppings and falling branches can damage you!
Note that this tent has a front and back.
The front can be identified by the label marked "FRONT".

Make sure a storm isn't lurking on the horizon.
If your tent does become damaged, keep going.
Wedge it with a twig. Clear snow from the roof.
Dental floss makes excellent emergency thread.

Cook outside, even if the weather's rubbish.
Trust the Oras!
You're in the wilderness for adventure!
